Toronto Tarot-ists! ... Not as dangerous as they sound

Wednesday August 4th 6:30 – 9:00 pm Free

Please join us for the first, monthly meeting of our new tarot club, the Toronto Tarot-ists! This gathering is open to those interested in discussing and furthering the practice of tarot as an esoteric tool of empowerment. This is a call to like-minded individuals who appreciate the history, mystery and beauty of the tarot. The discussion topic for the first meeting will be: “Have contemporary decks altered the fundamental interpretation of tarot to its detriment, or are they simply contributing to the positive evolution of the cards?” We look forward to a lively chat. Wonderworks Bookclub* Fridays 6³⁰ – 8 pm

Wonderworks announces our Bookclub selections and schedule for the 2010/2011 season:

September 9th Magdalen Rising by Elizabeth Cunningham (please note this meeting is a Thursday).

October 15th Alice's Adventures in Wonderland & Through the Looking Glass by Lewis Carroll

November 19th Jitterbug Perfume, by Tom Robbins (no bookclub meeting in December)

January 21st The Secret Book of Grazia dei Rossi by Jacqueline Park

February 18th The Bull From the Sea by Mary Renault

March 18th A Mercy by Toni Morrison

April 15th The Clan of the Cave Bear by Jean Auel

May 20 & June 17th Fall on Your Knees by Ann-Marie MacDonald

We'll be starting with Magdalen Rising. This is the prequel to The Passion of Mary Magdalen. Many of you already know this book, as we chose it to launch our book club last fall. These books are a re-telling of the gospels through the eyes of Mary Magdalen, wife of Jesus, priestess and sacred prostitute. Magdalen Rising details how Maeve and Jesus first met. You don't have to have read one to enjoy the other. Each book stands alone.

Raised on the mythical Isle of Women by eight weather-witching mothers and no father but the sea god, Maeve the Red first catches a glimpse of her cosmic twin, Jesus of Nazareth, in the reflection of a pool. Maeve and Jesus pursue their conjoined fates, they are brought to the druidic school, where ancient wisdom abounds.
